PRINCE MONTENUOVO DIES IN JAIL,
OTHERS EXECUTED FOR CONCEALING WEAPONS

Prince Nandor Montenuovo, who had been arrested for concealing weapons, died in jail 3 days after receiving a sentence of life imprisonment.

Dr Kalman Bolla, former head of the passport office of the Ministry of the Interior, and his son Kalman Bolla, Jr, were arrested for concealing two machine guns, four pistols, and an automatic rifle and ammunition in the basement of the Bolla estate. Bolla, who owned 1,600 cadastral yokes of land before the land reform, was condemned to death by a court-martial at Balassagyarmat, and was executed. His son was sentenced to 15 years' imprisonment.

Janos Kis Benedek, a kulak of Vac, was also condemned by the Budapest criminal court, and executed for concealing army rifles in his home.

Jozsef Pap, a 54-yoke kulak was condemned and executed by a court-martial at Pecs for concealing weapons in his home.
